Farmhand Says He Kidnaped Tot

Raped And Beat Girl Found Slain

JOPLIN, Mo., July 13 (AP)—Acting Detective Capt. John Showers said late today Audrey Brandt, 42-year-old Laporte City, Iowa, farmhand had admitted raping and beating 2-year-old Donna Sue Davis of Sioux City, Iowa. The girl's body was found near there Monday.

Showers said Brandt had made an oral statement admitting he abducted the girl from her crib Sunday night, but said the man claimed he did not kill her.

Showers said the man's description of the abduction and rape seemed to check with known facts in the slaying. He said the man's story at times was incoherent and rambling, however.

Questioned Nine Hours

The confession allegedly was made after nine hours of questioning.

Brandt was arrested here last night after a truck driver told police a hitchhiker fitted the description of a man wanted in the case.

The blue-eyed child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis of Sioux City, was found in a farm field near South Sioux City, Neb., just across the Missouri River from Sioux City.

She had been beaten savagely about the head.

Brandt, a slight, stooped man, told police he didn't know why he took the girl, Showers said.

Brandt's Story

This is the story Brandt told, according to Showers:

He passed the Davis home about sundown Sunday, then went to the Nebraska side of the river where he dropped his suitcase in a cornfield. He then went back to the Iowa side and passed the Davis residence once again.

Then Brandt removed the screen to the child's room, took Donna Sue from her crib and went back across the river.

It was there, Showers quoted Brandt, that he raped the girl. When she began screaming, Brandt said, he hit her several times.

Probe Told Ike Aide Intervened In Dixon-Yates

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—J. Sinclair Armstrong, chairman of the Securities & Exchange Commission, disclosed today it was the White House which asked for suspension of SEC hearings on the Dixon-Yates contract at a critical point last month.

After refusing to discuss the subject at all yesterday, Armstrong changed his tactics today and told a Senate subcommittee the request for a suspension came from Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's right hand man.

The SEC chief refused to talk about it yesterday on the ground that a presidential directive bans any disclosure of confidential communications between executive departments of the government. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), subcommittee chairman, warned him he might be cited for contempt.

Today, however, Armstrong said he had been advised by Atty. Gen. Brownell that he could testify about whether any suggestions for suspension of the hearings were made.

He did that, and then balked again when Kefauver pressed him about any other matters discussed in his telephone conversation with Adams. Again he claimed the privilege of silence under the presidential order.

Senate Group Backs 'Bonus' Reserve Plan

Vets' Compulsory Participation Voted Down By Committee

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee today approved a military reserve program banking largely on voluntary participation for the next two years.

The Eisenhower administration had sought compulsory reserve service for all men leaving the active ranks.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) called the measure fashioned in his committee a "good workable compromise" and a "vast improvement" over one already passed by the House. He said he hoped to move it up for full Senate action tomorrow.

Incentive For Vets

The bill is designed to expand the present 700,000-man reserve to a trained backlog of some 2,900,000 by 1960. That was the administration's aim. But at several points it differs sharply from methods urged by the Pentagon.

Defeated was the demand for authority to compel draftees and volunteers to continue their training in the reserve. Approved instead was a special bonus proposal by Russell which would give a veteran $200 or more if he signed up for three years' active reserve duty.

Newcomers Not Protected

The committee did decide that men entering service 30 days after the bill becomes law could be compelled to undertake at-home training upon their discharge.

"By that time all young men will know exactly what to expect," Russell said. He and others had protested that thrusting veterans into the ready reserve was handing them double duty while thousands of draft-age men escape any duty.

Russell's bonus offer would extend for only two years of the four covered by the program. But, in effect, not until the fall of 1957 would the Pentagon have authority to force veterans into the reserve.

Ex-Model Dies On Gallows For Slaying Lover

LONDON, July 13 (AP)—Beautiful Ruth Ellis, 28-year-old divorced mother of two children, was hanged today for murdering her unfaithful lover. The execution stirred new outcries for abolition of the death penalty.

The former blonde model and night club hostess went to the gallows seemingly calm and composed again after a breakdown during the night when she lay on her cot in bleak Holloway prison sobbing: "I don't want to die."

Hangman Albert Pierrepoint dropped her hooded figure through the trap as mounted police outside the massive prison gates held back a surging crowd of 1,000 people, many of them weeping and praying.

When the black-bordered notice of execution was posted on the main gate at 8:17 a.m., the crowd rushed forward, breaking through police lines. Shouts of "another murder" were heard.

Mrs. Ellis, the 14th woman to be hanged in Britain in this century, died for the Easter Sunday shooting of one of her two lovers, David Blakely, a 25-year-old racing driver and a son of a well-to-do English doctor.

The slim blonde, who never denied her guilt, sobbed herself into an exhausted sleep early this morning.

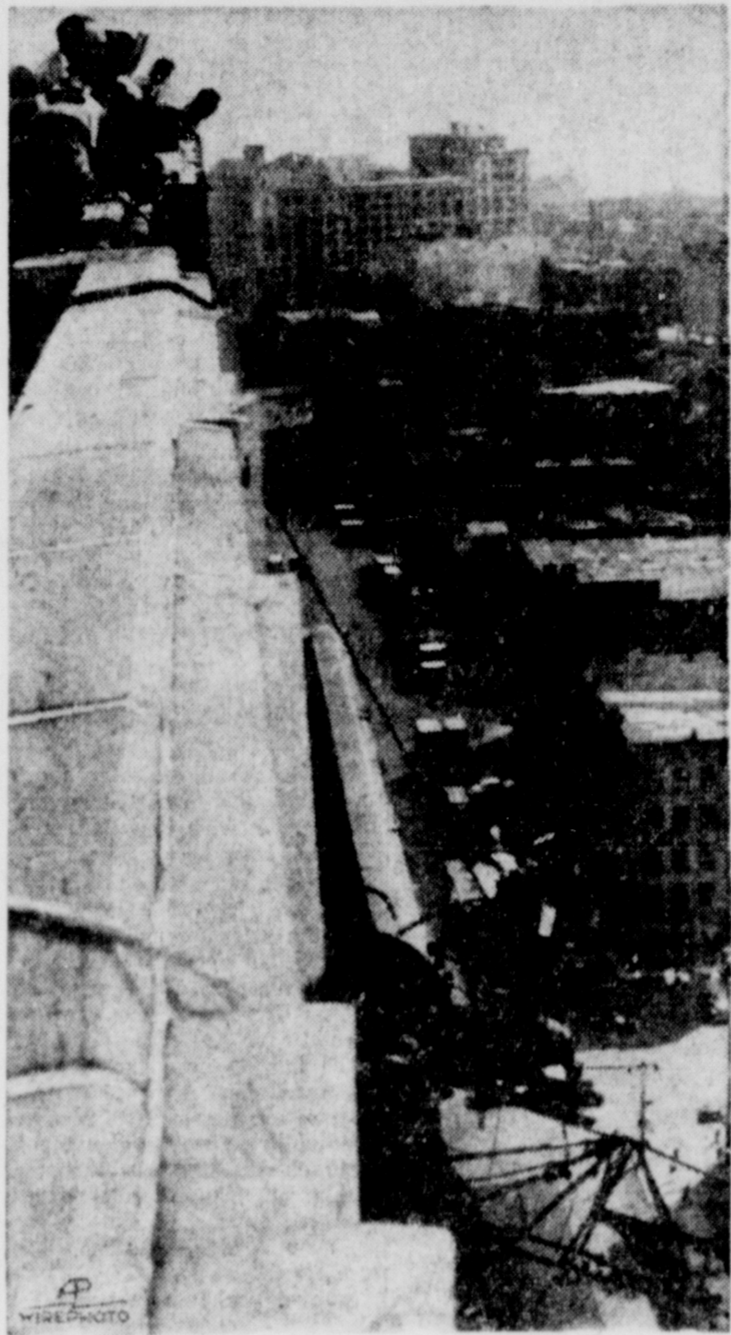

Senate Unit Asks Freedom For Communist Satellites

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—With an eye on the forthcoming Big Four conference, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today expressed "hope" that Soviet satellite nations will regain the right of self-government.

The committee unanimously approved a resolution to that effect and recommended that the full Senate adopt it.

Simultaneously the committee tossed out, 13-0, a counter proposal by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). It would have put the Senate on record as advocating that the United States immediately withdraw recognition of the present satellite regimes in East Europe.

And in another preconference gesture, the Senate group approved

'Copter Wreckage Tied

Ropes hold wreckage of a helicopter from tumbling 16 floors into Ninth Avenue in New York after it crashed and burned while taking off from the roof of a 17-story building. The pilot and a passenger were badly injured.

'Copter Crashes On N.Y. Building, Burns, Two Hurt

NEW YORK, July 13 (AP)—A helicopter crashed and burned today as it was taking off from the roof of a 17-story building in downtown Manhattan. The pilot and a passenger were badly injured.

Police said the pilot apparently forgot to unplug a 30-foot electric cable, used to start the helicopter's motor. As the craft rose from the building the cable came taut and tugged it off balance.

The machine smashed crazily against a 16th floor setback of the block-square Port of New York Authority building at 16th Street and Eighth Avenue, which has a heliport on the roof. The Plexiglas cockpit was shattered.

Employees ran out with fire extinguishers and pulled the pilot and the passenger, a port authority photographer, from the craft.

Seconds later the helicopter toppled over the edge of the building to a three-foot setback at the 15th floor.

Parts of the helicopter rained down on the heavy traffic of Ninth Ave. but no one on the ground was hurt.

The pilot, Marcel O. Chevalier, 30, of Forest Hills, Queens, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in serious condition with head injuries and multiple bruises and cuts.

The photographer, Arthur Truss of Staten Island, was in critical condition with a fractured skull and a broken leg.

No 'Food Taster' For Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—"Pure bunk" — That's what the White House today called reports that President Eisenhower would have a "food taster" at Geneva as a safeguard against poisoning.

Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, told newsmen he had been receiving inquiries about the matter.

"That is pure bunk," said Snyder.

The announcement said the date was fixed by the party's Central Committee, which wound up yesterday an eight-day meeting in Moscow. It said Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev will make a major report then on party activities.

The Congress will also hear a report by Premier Nikolai Bulganin on the sixth five-year plan of the Soviet Union for the development of the economy and heavy industry, the announcement added.

John was the son of popular parents who always got more social invitations than they could conveniently accept. One day in class the teacher asked if anyone knew what R.S.V.P. meant.

West Readies German Unity Proposition

Would Limit Armed Forces In Bid For Soviet Acceptance

LONDON, July 13 (AP)—The West was reported ready today with a plan to limit Germany's armed forces to 500,000 men—even after the country is united.

The East zone of Germany, now controlled by the Communists, would be demilitarized and made a buffer zone under Allied proposals, informed diplomats said.

The Western wish is to convince Russia that a unified Germany within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization need menace nobody.

French Premier Edgar Faure drafted the plan for submission to next week's Big Four conference at Geneva.

The proposal would top a series of suggestions that the United States, Britain and France have in mind to make German unification more acceptable to the Soviets and to bolster the peace and security of Europe.

The informants said the plans are dependent on Soviet agreement to free election of a united German government that would have the right to join NATO.

The 12-division or 500,000-soldier maximum is the same that has been set as West Germany's contribution to NATO.

Strict curbs which presently govern West German armament production also would be applied to a reunited Germany under the Western plan, according to the informants. Even such military supplies as oil would be controlled if a reunited Germany should become a member of NATO in terms of the Western proposal.

Unity Among Big 3 Proclaimed By Dulles

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles flew toward the Big Four summit meeting today after confidently proclaiming "eye to eye" unity among the Western powers.

U. S.-British-French accord on issues likely to come up at the conference starting Monday, Dulles said, is a "good beginning of our efforts to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on the stated purposes of the Geneva conference."

Those purposes, he continued, are "to identify the issues to be worked on in the future and to agree on the international procedures to be established for finding solutions."

Dulles' plane-side statement reiterated past warnings against expecting too much.

Faure Would Cut Arms, Use Savings For Good

PARIS, July 13 (AP)—French Premier Edgar Faure today proposed that the Big Four agree to reduce their armaments and use the money saved for raising the world's standard of living.

Broad outlines of the plan were approved at a meeting of the French Cabinet and will be presented when the chiefs of government of Russia, the United States, Britain and France meet next week at Geneva.

Faure asked: "Why not, parallel to a program of general disarmament, begin immediately by taking a certain percentage of the military expenses of each of the four great powers—to set an example—and put the equivalent amount into a four-power fund open to all and used not for destructive, sterile and negative purposes but for generous, social and positive undertakings?"

The boys, ranging from 12 to 16, lost their lives Monday when tons of snow and rock thundered down upon them as they climbed less than half a mile from the top of the 11,636-foot peak, 30 miles northwest of this resort town.

Two of their four companions were injured seriously. The bodies were moved into Banff last night.

NAMED TO CABINET — Marion B. Folsom, President Eisenhower's choice to succeed Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby as secretary of welfare, discusses his new job at a news conference in Washington yesterday. Folsom now is undersecretary of the treasury. (AP Wirephoto)

Mrs. Hobby Quits Cabinet; Folsom Gets Health Post

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—In a ceremony heavy with emotion, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby resigned today as secretary of health, education and welfare.

The resignation, which is effective Aug. 1, had been expected but the staging of her announcement of departure and the warm words which passed between her and President Eisenhower made a dramatic scene.

To succeed her, the President named Marion B. Folsom, a Georgia-born, Harvard-educated executive who is known as a social-minded businessman. He helped draft the pattern of the nation's social security system.

Folsom, a Republican who is now undersecretary of the treasury, said he would like to see social security extended to cover more people, principally the self-employed and professional people.

Mrs. Hobby Under Fire
Mrs. Hobby has been under fire because of the failure of the polio vaccine program to proceed as fast as had been hoped. However, her official announcement said "personal reasons of a high order compel me to take leave of my post."

Friends said that meant she wanted to be with her husband, former Gov. William P. Hobby of Texas, who is ill.

The White House called photographers and reporters to its conference room on short notice late this morning, but the room was packed when the President and Mrs. Hobby, trim in a tan dress with white print and a matching coat, walked in together.

Without saying in so many words that Mrs. Hobby was quitting, the President turned to her before the gathering and said, with deep emotion:

"Well, Oveta, this is a sad day for the administration."

He went on to recall her World War II work as head of the Women's Army Corps — "one of the finest organizations that the Army has ever had."

When she started her reply, her voice filled up and she seemed to be fighting back the tears.

Folsom told reporters Mrs. Hobby's resignation had been pending since February and he told the President last April that he would take the Welfare Department job.

He said Mrs. Hobby told him she would have to leave because of the illness of her husband and had suggested Folsom as her successor.

BELLUNO, Italy, July 13 (AP)—A lightning bolt killed three Italian soldiers today and injured six others at their summer training quarters.

Woman Guilty Of Advising Young Men To Evade Draft

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., July 13 (AP)—Mrs. Lucille S. Miller, 45, was convicted today by a federal jury on 18 counts of advising young men to evade military service.

The jury returned the verdict after a little more than an hour of deliberation. The trial lasted three days. Mrs. Miller was the only defense witness.

Judge Ernest W. Gibson ordered Mrs. Miller to post $1,000 bail for sentencing Aug. 8, when a probation officer's report on her case is to be made to the court.

Mrs. Miller told newsmen after the verdict was given that she considered she "had a fair trial."

The law provides penalties for such violations of the Military Service Act may be punished by imprisonment of up to five years on each count, along with fines up to $10,000 on each charge.

Defense counsel said he intended to appeal.

Mrs. Miller gained national attention last May when she and her husband, Manuel, 47, a justice of the peace at Bethel, stood off a U. S. marshal and police for 12 hours when they arrived at the Miller home with a court order to commit her to a mental hospital.

Tear gas forced Miller to lay down his rifle after an armed siege had lasted from midmorning until late at night.

Mrs. Miller then was sent to Washington, D. C. for sanity tests at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where she was pronounced sane.

Eisenhower Inks Measure Despite Blast

Regards Congress Curb On Shutdown Of Plants 'Illegal'

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed the $31.882,000,000 defense appropriations bill today, although he said he will regard one section of it as unconstitutional until the courts rule otherwise.

The President objected to a "rider" giving congressional committees the power to block any Defense Department plans to shut down government shipyards, arsenals and the like.

If the money wasn't urgently needed by the Defense Department for its operations in the new fiscal year, Eisenhower said in a sharp and unusual message to Congress, "I would have withheld my approval of the bill."

"Veto By Paragraph" Charged
Two Democrat congressmen immediately challenged the President's statement, calling it "nullification" and illegal "veto by paragraph." Some Republicans came to the President's defense.

The legislation appropriates $14,739,000,000 for the expanding Air Force in the 12 months which began July 1, $9,118,000,000 for the Navy and Marine Corps, $7,329,000,000 for the Army and the balance for general Defense Department purposes.

A House Appropriations subcommittee wrote in the rider to which the President objected so strongly.

It was attached to a provision of the bill dealing with Defense Department's authority "to rid itself of many of the manifold activities that it has been performing with its civilian personnel, and that can be adequately and economically performed by private industry without danger to the national security."

90 Days Notice Required
The Eisenhower administration has placed a good deal of emphasis on what it feels is a need for the government to divest itself of operations that could be handled by private enterprise.

Congress provided, however, that if the Defense Department wants to shut down any of its shipyards or similar services it must give Congress 90 days notice. If either a House or Senate Committee disapproves of a shutdown, the rider says, operations must continue.

The rider won the support of Congress members fearful of shutdowns of government installations in their districts.

Tanker Plane Crash Kills 10

MERCED, Calif., July 13 (AP)—A big "tanker" plane for jet refueling caught fire in the air today and plunged its 10-man crew to their deaths.

The four-engine plane fell from about 1,500 feet shortly after it left Castle Air Force Base near here.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The crash occurred at 6:32 a.m. as the tanker, a military version of the Stratocruiser, was taking off on a routine refueling mission.

It was to have met a flight of bombers for a refueling test but one of its engines suddenly dropped off.

A rancher saw the engine fall and said flames then shot along the fuselage and the plane veered earthward. It crashed on the G.O. Lee ranch north of the Merced River and exploded. The flames set a barley field afire.

Actress Susan Ball In Serious Condition

DUARTE, Calif., July 13 (AP)—Actress Susan Ball, whose right leg was amputated 18 months ago in a fight against cancer, was in the City of Hope Medical Center today, in serious condition from the same malady.

The hospital announced she was admitted July 5.

Miss Ball, 21, has been married and starred in a movie and a television play since acquiring an artificial leg.

A hospital source who declined to be named said her condition, while serious, is not considered to be hopeless.

Tug Workers Strike

BALTIMORE, July 13 (AP)—A strike of some 125 cooks, deckhands and firemen tied up 27 tugboats and crippled shipping in Baltimore harbor today.

Blind Man's Shop Taken By Mahaney, Report Says

BALTIMORE, July 13 (AP)—William H. Mahaney, former chairman of Maryland's Employment Security Board, today was accused of taking away a snack bar operated by a blind man at the building where the ESB has its headquarters in Baltimore.

Mahaney and a partner subsequently set up a snack bar in the building.

The accusation was made in a report filed by Joseph Sherbow, special investigator now conducting an inquiry into the ESB for Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert.

Mahaney stepped down as board chairman after the incident and became administrator of the Employment Security Department at the same salary. He suddenly resigned from this job in April when the department came under fire. Questioned practices now have been attributed to him in three investigative reports filed by Sherbow.

Sherbow's new accusation today recited that Mahaney, as board chairman, arranged through a broker in 1950 to lease additional space for the ESB in the Butler Brothers building.

The broker got $2,607 for the transaction. The blind man, who had been operating a snack shop in the building under auspices of the Maryland Society for the Blind, faced the loss of his space and sought room for his establishment on the new floor being leased by the ESB.

Blueprints had been drawn and some of the plumbing had been installed when the arrangement was cancelled, Sherbow reported. Later, his report said, the real estate broker "gave" Mahaney $1,200 and Mahaney put it into a lunchroom which was set up in a $50-a-month space in the basement of the building.

Sherbow reported Mahaney collected $6,000 as his half of the profits in the snack bar and continues to get $150 a month.

Two Newsmen Refuse To Say If Reds In '30s

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Two newsmen for big New York City dailies told Senate investigators today that they are not now members of the Communist party. They refused to say whether they had been Reds back in the 1930s.

The men, David Gordon of the Daily News and Melvin Barnett of the Times, appeared before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to answer questions about alleged Communist ties when they worked for the Brooklyn Eagle before World War II.

Another former Eagle newsmen, Charles S. Lewis of Burlington, Vt., said that he was a Communist party member "for a few months" in 1937 but quit when it became a question of choice "between the party and my wife."

Chairman Eastland (D - Miss.) read into the record a letter he received from Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the Times, saying he was firing Barnett.

In his letter, Sulzberger noted that Barnett had failed to answer certain questions. The publisher said he was enclosing a copy of a letter to Barnett telling him his employment by the Times "had ceased."

Today's hearing, held before a slim gathering in the big Senate caucus room, marked another round of the subcommittee's public hearings on Communist activities among newspapermen. Chairman Eastland (D-Miss.) has said the senators are not investigating the press, but looking for instances of communistic activity wherever they can be found.

Prominent Maryland Social Leader Dies

BALTIMORE, July 13 (AP)—Mrs. Miles White, prominent Maryland social leader and authority on antiques, died last night after an illness of one month. She was 85.

Mrs. White was the mother of Francis Whiten ambassador to Mexico, and aunt of Philip Bonsal, ambassador to Colombia. Her mother was a niece of Johns Hopkins, to whom the university is named.

She was the last surviving member of the group that originated the Baltimore Assembly, a yearling gathering of the city's social leaders. She was also an original member of the Colony Club, a fashionable New York women's club.

McKeldin And Legislators To Discuss Probe Of SRC

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 13 (AP)—Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) said today Gov. McKeldin had given him and other members of the Legislative Council an appointment for Thursday, July 21, to discuss a possible investigation of the State Roads Commission.

Goldstein, who is also president of the Legislative Council, said the appointment had been made through the governor's executive secretary Thomas Carr.

The governor had written Goldstein previously, asking him to make the appointment through his secretary. Goldstein said attempts to contact the governor by telephone to discuss the subject had not been successful.

Woman Charges D.C. Doctor Made Her Dope Addict

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Senators investigating the narcotics traffic heard from a 42-year-old woman today that a Washington doctor made her a dope addict and she had to pay him over $40,000 to keep her in drugs.

Asked how she raised the money, she said: "The usual thing a woman goes into, prostitution."

The woman, an attractively dressed blonde whose name was kept secret, accused Dr. Harry Friedenberg, 53, whose office is on I St. in northwest Washington.

Her testimony was given to a Narcotics subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary committee. The subcommittee announced that Dr. Friedenberg has been subpoenaed in Miami and is expected here to take the stand tomorrow.

The woman testified she called Dr. Friedenberg in 1950 because "I had been drinking and felt badly." Her story continued:

"He came to my apartment. He gave me an injection in the vein. I didn't know what it was. For about a year he came to my apartment once or twice a month. Then I got to the point where I was seeing him three to five times a day."

"After a couple of years I saw morphine" written on the box from which he had taken a pill to prepare the solution."

She said she became a prostitute four years ago at the time she was getting four or five shots a day.

Then Goldstein wrote the governor a formal letter, asking for an appointment.

Democratic legislators have renewed their demands for a probe of the Roads Commission after disclosure of charges of misconduct against an SRC right-of-way engineer.

Congress Approves Public Works Bill

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Congress today completed action on a compromise bill appropriating $1,365,613,500 to finance the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority and public works programs in the current fiscal year.

The measure now goes to President Eisenhower.

The Senate approved the bill on a voice vote after Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) had said that reductions in the AEC section would confront the nation with a "catastrophe." The House voted approval 315-92 earlier.

The compromise was for 424 million dollars less than Eisenhower requested.

GOC Becomes National Today

COLORADO SPRINGS, July 13 (AP)—Operation Skywatch expands into a nationwide organization on its third anniversary tomorrow.

Skywatch operates through half a million airplane spotters who scan the skies for unidentified—and possibly hostile—aircraft.

They compose the Ground Observer Corps, a part of the Continental Air Defense Command which has its headquarters here.

The command announced that on its third anniversary GOC becomes national by expansion into the 12 south central states—Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah and Arizona.

Russian advances in production of long-range aircraft have changed all that. Maps in the CADC combat operations center now show Soviet capability to sneak down from the north far out at sea, both in the Atlantic and the Pacific, and to swing around through the gulfs of Mexico and California to unleash surprise atomic attacks from the south.

Trucker Unable To Explain Why He Killed Three

FLINT, Mich., July 13 (AP)—Handsome, quiet-spoken young Kenneth Kuzner struggled in bewilderment today trying to explain the fatal tavern booth shootings of three persons.

Two women and a man, all total strangers to him, were dead at Kuzner's hand. A second man was shot and badly wounded.

The 30-year-old bachelor-truck driver, described as subject to minor irritations, couldn't say why.

At first he said they were "noisy" and "made me nervous." But later, reconsidering—"I don't know why. It was all just an impulse."

Authorities, looking for a strange quirk that caused the act, learned of a "personality maladjustment" in the young man.

Police said Kuzner frankly admitted he deliberately shot and killed the three as they sat in a tavern booth last night, then reloaded his empty pistol and walked out.

"It's so refreshing," one executive said, "to see such a beautiful face and curves equipped with such good sense."

What Is the Book of Common Prayer?

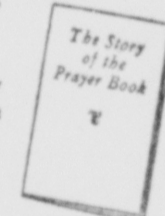

Our church services, as set forth in the Book of Common Prayer—a book of prayer and worship for use "in common" by the people—is a product of centuries of practical wisdom and religious instinct.

It is a book with a thrilling history. It is a broadly accepted idea that it alone, excepting the King James' version of the Holy Bible, has had greater world influence than any book in the English language. Today, more than 45,000,000 worshippers the world over follow "The Book of Common Prayer"—each in his own language.

The Episcopal Church in its Book of Common Prayer sets forth its regular services of worship not according to individual opinion but by the continually studied and tested judgment of the Church as a whole.

The fascinating story of this book is told in "The Story of the Prayer Book," a copy of which we'll be happy to send you. We also invite you to join us in worship of God, today, in the Episcopal Church near you. Share with us "Peace of Mind" and "Peace of Soul" so much needed in this time of doubt and failing peace.

Swimming is wonderful exercise for the whole figure.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

For curvier curves, the best exercise in the world is swimming. It will build up a small bosom and firm and tighten a large bosom. Swimming is wonderful for the whole figure. Esther Williams is a walking example of this. When I saw her recently her figure was as sleek as a teenager... and she is the mother of three children. If you don't measure up (my book let, "Do You Measure Up?" 10c in coin and stamped, self-addressed envelope), practice daily the following exercises.

If you're not near the beach, try this at home: Lie flat on the bed facing the floor, shoulders and arms over the edge. Now, do a crawl just like you were swimming. Arm over right... arm over left... in rhythm. Work up to 100 strokes.

There are no muscles in the breast, and developing the bustline requires time. But exercises will work. Bustline contour depends on strength of the pectoral muscles just above each breast. Getting these muscles firm, will develop the breasts. It will take at least six weeks of steady effort.

Sit with arms outstretched to sides at shoulder level... with great deliberation, "draw" big circles in the air on increasingly higher planes, counterclockwise. Relax and repeat 12 times. Then in rotating motions, make circles with elbows (arms bent and fist toward face). Keep elbows as close as possible to your sides. Next, sit with arms raised forward at shoulder level — elbows straight, palms down. Pretend that there are two heavy books in front of your hands. Very slowly, keeping elbows at shoulder level, pull "books" toward bosom until the fists touch it. Relax and repeat 20 to 35 times. Try for a slower and slower pace; aim for more and more muscular tension in the arms and chest. The minute you feel fatigue, stop and rest.

Four Persons Hurt In Two-Car Crash At Springfield

Four persons were injured, and three of them hospitalized, as the result of a two-car collision Saturday night in Springfield.

Hurt were Bernard M. Brooks, 70, of Moorefield, driver of one of the cars involved; his wife, Mrs. Ethel Brooks; a passenger, Laura Jones of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Janet Brant, wife of Richard A. Brant, 216 Roberts Street, driver of the other vehicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and Laura Jones were admitted to Memorial Hospital for X-rays and observation. The two women are still patients at Memorial where attaches yesterday reported them in "good" condition. Mrs. Brooks suffered chest and pelvic injuries, while the other woman sustained cuts and bruises about the head.

Trooper G. H. Phillips of the State Police detachment at Romney, who investigated, said the Brant vehicle was en route to Cumberland when it was struck head-on by the car operated by Brooks. Trooper Phillips said Brooks was charged with failure to keep to the right of the highway.

Footer's Start Laundry Service

Harry Footer and Company today started shirt laundry service in its stores in Cumberland, LaVale, Frostburg, Piedmont and Keyser company officials announced yesterday.

New automatically controlled equipment has been installed in the wing of the plant in LaVale. Officials said every shirt is individually wrapped in cellophane, and shirts are handfinished where necessary.

The addition of this service has resulted in an increase in employment in the LaVale plant, the company spokesman said.

The public may inspect the new laundry units in operation, the firm announced.

Judge Henderson Elected Head Of Recreation Board

Chief Judge George Henderson has been named chairman of the Cumberland Recreation Board.

The board at a recent meeting in the office of Mayor Roy W. Pence, also re-elected Mrs. Florence Yankelevitz as secretary. Judge Henderson succeeds Lewyn C. Davis.

Recreation Director Robert E. Pence submitted his monthly report of activities to the board. It was noted that with the increase in activities, a larger group of children is being served. Pence said 2,000 youngsters visit the city's playgrounds daily with another 3,000 engaged daily in swimming, baseball, softball, tennis and golf.

A report on the board's recommendations to the Mayor and Council concerning expenditures of the Recreation Bond issue was made. The board is reported anxious to take care of the city's No. 1 problem—lack of adequate land for the recreation program.

Also discussed was the budget for the coming year. A meeting is to be held this week between Judge Henderson and Pence to prepare final recommendations. The final draft will then be submitted to City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

Unanimously approved was the recommendation that the contract of Pence be extended for another year with an increase in salary of $250. The board also authorized Pence to attend the National Recreation Association Congress in Denver September 27 to October 1.

The board welcomed a new member, J. Monroe Sharer, who was recently named to replace C. Davis.

Cumberland BPW Receive National Recognition

Group Will Attend State Meeting

The Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club was given special mention for the winning of the 1954-55 state program contest in the July issue of "Independent Woman," the national magazine of the BPW Clubs, Inc. "This Is Our Story," an autobiographical sketch of the Cumberland BPW Club, was the award winning program.

It was presented on October 12, 1954, as a part of last year's observance of Business Women's Week and honored Dr. Lillian C. Compton, the first president of the Cumberland group and the second president of the state federation. Mrs. Thelma Swartzwelder was chairman of the Business Women's Week committee. Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, state program coordinator, presented the sterling silver vase, the state award for the most outstanding program of the year, to Miss Geradine Pritchard, president of the Cumberland club for 1954-55. The award was made at the state convention in May in Hagerstown.

Nine members of the Cumberland Club will attend the state program planning meeting at the Hotel Stafford, Baltimore, Saturday. Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, state program coordinator, is to conduct a workshop in the morning. All state chairmen, club presidents and chairmen will participate.

Also attending will be Miss Helen Beck, local club president; Mrs. Thelma Swartzwelder, vice president; Miss Mary Jo Logsdon, recording secretary; Mrs. Gladys Daniels, treasurer; Miss Anna Nicht, state parliamentarian; Miss Geradine Pritchard, Miss Theresa Nicht and Miss Dorothy Manley.

The workshop is to be around the program set up by Miss Pritchard and the clubs of the state federation. A club calendar will be set up around one of the themes suggested to insure over-all plans for the year and variety of program presentation.

Two state level contests will be explained. Miss Pritchard will give directions for the state program contest, which was won last year by the Cumberland club. The winning program this year will be entered in the national contest, inaugurated this year. Mrs. Helen Fisher, Hagerstown, will outline the state news service contest, which has been sponsored for the past two years by the Cumberland Club. This year the local club will be eligible to participate.

The July workshop will include a springboard talk by Dr. Leon Sachs, Baltimore; buzz sessions, panel discussion, displays of helpful materials, question period, summary, and conclusions. Miss Pritchard has prepared for each club coordinator a program pack including bibliographies, movie guides, books, pamphlets, and specific helps for the five content committees of the federation.

Miss Nina Russell, Baltimore, is the state president and will preside at the meeting.

Guy Faulkner is ill at his home, 109 New Hampshire Avenue.

TO REPRESENT COUNTY — Five Allegany County 4-H Girls will compete for the state titles at Timonium early in September. They were the winners in the annual county-wide demonstrations held yesterday at the Court House. In the baked goods contest, Delores Kifer and Virginia Vance, from the Flintstone-Polish Mountain Club were the team winners; and Nancy Vandevort, Danville, the individual winner. Patricia King, Cumberland, the cherry pie winner; Donna Simpson, Cresaptown, the individual dairy food winner. Mary Agnes Rice, Flintstone, won first prize in the miscellaneous demonstration with her tomato-tuna fish salad. Patricia King placed second in the baked goods and Mary Kimberlin, Cumberland, and Charlotte King, Cumberland, tied for third place.

Local AAUW Celebration Represented Is Postponed At Meetings

Miss Ruth Clauson and Mrs. Aden Everette will represent Cumberland Branch of the American Association of University Women at the art exhibit, arranged by the Garrett County AAUW today.

The Garrett County group is sponsoring the exhibit of water color work by Mrs. Elizabeth Patton of Hollywood, Fla., and Deep Creek Lake. It is being held in the Episcopal parish house, Oakland.

A conference on juvenile delinquency, held recently in Hagerstown, was attended by Mrs. William Van Newkirk, local president, as a representative of the Cumberland Branch.

The Governor's conference on education, held in Baltimore, was attended by Mrs. Gilbert Miller and Mrs. John Hafer, representing the local club.

Md. Income Tax Revenue In The Mail

BALTIMORE (AP) — Checks totaling $7,510,939.31 are being mailed to counties and incorporated cities and towns in Maryland this week from State income tax revenue.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes announced yesterday.

The checks, added to $3,833,764.89 previously distributed, brings to $11,344,704.20 the amount distributed to political subdivisions for the fiscal year ended June 30. The total is about two million dollars more than was distributed the previous fiscal year.

Under Maryland law, 34 per cent of the State income tax paid by residents is distributed to the subdivisions in which they reside. If the taxpayer lives in an incorporated community within a county, the share is divided between city and county. Otherwise, it all goes to the county.

The eight incorporated towns in Allegany County and the Board of Commissioners received $193,137.01 in this revenue during the fiscal year ending June 30.

A breakdown of the report from the comptroller's office shows Barton received $934.67 in that period; Cresaptown, $579.85; Cumberland, $53,709.18; Frostburg, $8,758.13; Lonaconing, $2,080.92; Luke, $1,777.02; Midland, $388.06; and West-ernport, $3,954.30.

The amount sent to the Board of Commissioners for the fiscal year ending June 30 totaled $120,954.88, although officials said this amount would not be shown on county records for that period since some of it was received after July 1 and thus carried in the current fiscal year.

Federal Jury Indicts Two Local Men

Three conscientious objectors, including two Cumberland brothers, were indicted Tuesday in Baltimore by the federal grand jury on charges of failing to report for civilian work as ordered.

The indictment named Walton D. Robey, 26, and Otto Robey, 24, of Massachusetts Avenue, and Gary G. Pyles, 23, of Lanham. All are members of the Jehovah's Witnesses religious sect.

Authorities said the trio failed to report to Rosewood State Training School after objecting to the draft.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Walter E. Black said a previous indictment for failure to report for induction into the armed forces had been dismissed by a ruling of the Supreme Court.

Two other Jehovah's Witnesses were convicted last April in Baltimore for refusing to do civilian work instead of being drafted. Both were sentenced to two years in a federal prison.

The Robey brothers registered for the draft at Selective Service headquarters here in 1948 but later moved to Miami, Fla., and joined the religious group.

The local draft board reclassified them as conscientious objectors at their request when they returned to Cumberland.

However, Col. Henry C. Stanwood, state SS director, appealed the decision of the Cumberland board and, at an appeal board hearing in Baltimore in 1952, the brothers were replaced in 1-A classification. The vote of the appeal board was 4-0.

The brothers, both of whom are married, refused to be processed for induction after reporting July 29, 1951 in Baltimore.

Niland's Are Reported As Making Progress

William J. Niland, 310 Park Street, is reported in "good" condition at St. Francis Hospital, Cambridge, Ohio.

Niland and his wife were injured in an accident on July 3 when lightning struck a restaurant in Cambridge. He underwent a head operation last Friday at the Ohio hospital.

Mrs. Niland, who also suffered injuries, is undergoing hydro-therapy at the hospital.

Friends Aware Meet Tonight

Friends Aware of Handicapped Children, meeting today at 8 p. m. at Cumberland Savings Bank, will make final plans for a bake sale.

"Little Bicentennial Queen" Will Be Named

Plans for the selection of a "Little Bicentennial Queen" were announced yesterday by the Bicentennial Corporation.

Foster Leiderbach, chairman, said the "Little Queen" will share honors with "Miss Fort Cumberland" in a scene of the pageant "Redcoats and Redskins" and ride with her on the Queen's float.

The Little Queen will also receive gifts of clothing.

All girls eight years old or younger are eligible if their parents reside in the Tri-State area.

Parents are asked to send snapshots, which will not be returned, to the Little Queen Contest Committee, Post Office Box 687, Cumberland. Entries must be submitted by Monday, July 18.

Of snapshots submitted, 10 will be selected as finalists by the committee and have their portraits taken free of charge.

Voting starts Saturday, July 23 and the Little Queen will be decided by the public which will vote for the candidate of their choice at a cent a vote. Money goes to the Bicentennial fund. Ballots may be cast either at the Strand Theatre lobby or mailed to the Little Queen Contest Committee, P.O. Box 687.

The contest closes at 6 p. m. Saturday, August 13.

Man Jailed On Forgery Charge

A Cumberland employee of the Shipway Motor Express Company, Inc., is being held in Allegany County Jail on a charge of forgery in connection with a company check that was stolen two weeks ago.

William Flourney Sine, Boulevard Apartments, this city, has been charged with forging the name of William D. Shipway, a fellow employee, to a check in the amount of $82.78, drawn on the Cumberland Savings Bank by the trucking firm.

Yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court, Sine waived a preliminary hearing and was committed to the county lockup in default of $1,000 bond for action at the October session of the Allegany County Grand Jury.

Scout Board Meeting Set

A special meeting of the Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, executive board will be held at Camp Potomac, 6:30 p. m. tomorrow, according to President James C. Warden.

The meeting will highlight inspection of the scout camp by two region three visitors, John D. Low, of Washington, Pa., representing the region three executive committee, and James Gelwick, of the region three Philadelphia office, will make an inspection tour.

This will be the initial meeting for the newly-elected officers and also for the new board members.

When reported missing on June 25, when Sine allegedly had taken it, it was cashed at a local market after Sine apparently forged Shipway's signature, endorsing the check.

Judge Denies Plea For Writ

Clarence E. Tyler, who has made 11 other unsuccessful attempts to win his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus, yesterday lost out in his 12th try when Chief Judge George Henderson filed an opinion and order in Allegany County Circuit Court denying the application.

Tyler was convicted of violation of probation in the Circuit Court of Baltimore City and was sentenced to five years in the Maryland Penitentiary beginning August 1, 1953.

Judge Henderson notes that penitentiary records show Tyler has applied seven times to Maryland circuit court judges, once to the Maryland Court of Appeals, twice to the U. S. District Court and finally once even to the U. S. Supreme Court this year.

instructor. Probably the most colorful character in the camp is Rev. Ralph S. Illingworth, Frostburg Presbyterian pastor. He is affectionately known as "Sarge" by the boys who recall his services as an enlisted man in World War II.

A counselor at the camp who sees that things keep running smoothly is Merritt Pope of Mountain Lake Park, who has taught vocational agriculture at Southern High School in Oakland the past two years.

Two Women Cooks
Certainly the most important persons at the camp at 8 a. m. noon and 5:30 p. m. are the two Allegany County women who cook the large volume of food consumed by more than 80 hungry boys and men. They are Mrs. Edith Lechlitter of Cresaptown and Mrs. Jessie Vandevort of Danville. Mrs. Lechlitter, who has been cooking at Pleasant Valley each summer for more than 10 years, is a professional cook at one place or another virtually around the calendar. During the school year she is on the job in the Mt. Royal School cafeteria. Then most of the summer she is busy at Pleasant Valley, serving up delicious meals for one group or another. Her fame has spread so that she is called to Timonium each August to serve as official cook at the State Fair.

Two Men Get Suspended Prison Terms

Two young men who had entered guilty pleas on separate charges of larceny of cash from acquaintances were each sentenced to ten years in the Maryland Penitentiary yesterday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris who suspended the sentences and placed each man under strict parole conditions.

The men were James Walter Farris, 20, of Springdale Street, and Marvin Luther Perdew, 32, Centerville, Pa. They had pleaded guilty at hearings June 29 in Allegany County Circuit Court and Judge Harris had withheld sentencing pending a report on the two men by Parole Officer David Steele.

Judge Harris told Farris he had "no excuse for appearance" in court, noting that he had every break a youth could wish for. He was suspending the sentence, the judge continued, since it was the first offense against Farris' record and because of his scholastic record in college.

Farris, Judge Harris said, must be of general good behavior, refrain from intoxicants for the 10-year period and attend church regularly. He must also abide by any other restrictions placed by the parole officer.

In suspending the sentence against Perdew, Judge Harris also noted that the only offense against his record was conviction of a motor vehicle violation in Bedford County, Pa. Perdew, the judge continued, must find employment and pay back $114 still due the friend from whom he took about $1,300.

Perdew was also warned to be of general good behavior, refrain from all intoxicants and abide by any other restrictions imposed by the parole officer. The $114, Judge Harris said, is to be paid back through the state's attorney's office.

Farris pleaded guilty to the theft of $800 from the apartment of Carl Keller, 508 Park Street. He was represented at the hearing and sentencing by Attorney William H. Geppert.

Perdew confessed to having kept the pocketbook of Charles Bridges of the Bean's Cove section after it had fallen to the floor of a car while they were making the rounds of beer establishments in the Ridgeley area. He was not represented by counsel.

Police Check Entry Of Service Station

A service station at the corner of Henderson Avenue and Valley Street was broken into during the night, but nothing of value was stolen.

Police said the culprit entered the building through a window. Pennies from a box in the place were found scattered on a table.

Today Is France's 'Fourth Of July'

The Bastille had stood there for over three hundred years. It was a great pile of mortar and stone. It was a monument to the power of might over the helplessness of the weak. On July 14, 1789, an infuriated mob stormed this gray somber castle and disgorged from its hideous cells hopeless wretches whose lives were one continuous round of never ending suffering.

The fall of the Bastille marked the opening of the French revolution. The Marseillaise was being sung the length and breadth of the land. Years of awful warfare followed but democracy triumphed. The powers of the usurpers were destroyed. The shackles of the peasant were cast off and a free France came into the world. The fall of the Bastille marked the end of the Old Order. In its place today, stands a shaft commemorating the place and reminding all who see it of freedom, liberty and the rights of man.

The storming of that famous prison of Paris on that memorable day, symbolizes for the French patriot those liberties which Americans hail in the Declaration of Independence.

France has lost and regained her liberties many times since 1789. She has seen the rise and fall of empires and republics. Her soil has been occupied by foreign foes. In spite of oppression heredity has planted firmly in the souls of the French the spirit of liberty.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Security Commission

A Commission will be appointed to study the entire security setup of the Government of the United States. Such commissions are often dependent upon their chairman for success, he being its chief executive officer, recruiting the staff, calling the meetings, etc.

Surely, it would be inadvisable to select as chairman anyone who has been violently opposed to security laws and security procedures, just as it would be inadvisable to appoint one who has been engaged in prosecutions of subversives and has come to believe that when in doubt, throw the man out.

It would seem that the best man for this chairmanship would be a former Federal judge who has sat over trials, rather than in the Appellate courts. The trial judges deal with facts and are accustomed to getting down to brass tacks; the judges in the higher courts deal principally with the philosophy of the law and often live in an ethereal atmosphere where they never see the ground because of the clouds. No one can question the philosophic brilliance of Judge Learned Hand, for instance, but he is so far away from reality that sometimes one wonders whether his decisions were written in the 1950s or the 1850s. For him, the philosophy of the law does not change; therefore life does not change.

It has been suggested that Dean Erwin N. Griswold of the Harvard Law School might be a fitting chairman because he has written a book, consisting of three speeches, on the Fifth Amendment in which he demonstrates a theory that Communists and ex-Communists ought to plead the Fifth Amendment even when it does not apply, as a subsequent question arising out of the answer might lead to self-incrimination. He said:

"Persons have been prosecuted under the Smith Act for membership in the Communist Party plus something else. If he (the hypothetical professor) supplies the proof of his own membership in the Party, he does not know what other evidence may then be brought against him to show that he has committed a crime. Thus, an answer to the question will definitely incriminate him, that is, provide evidence which could be used in a prosecution against him."

Curiously, the Smith Act does not raise the question of the Communist Party. As C. Dickerman Williams points out in an article in the "Fordham Law Review," "... The Smith Act forbids attempts to overthrow the Government by force. It makes no reference to the Communist Party and was, in fact, first invoked, to Communist enthusiasm against Trotskyites. Although we may assume that membership in the Communist Party would be admissible evidence against an accused in a present day prosecution, per se it would be meaningless; such membership, and office in the party as well, are expressly declared by the Internal Security Act of 1950 not to constitute a violation of any criminal statute. As the opinions of the courts in Smith Act prosecutions of Communists make clear, the 'something else' constitutes about one thousand parts of the Government's case to one for 'membership'. Only longtime functionaries of the party, deep in its conspiratorial activities, have been prosecuted. According to experts on the subject there are about 700,000 ex-Communists in the United States, but there have been only a few score prosecutions under the Smith Act."

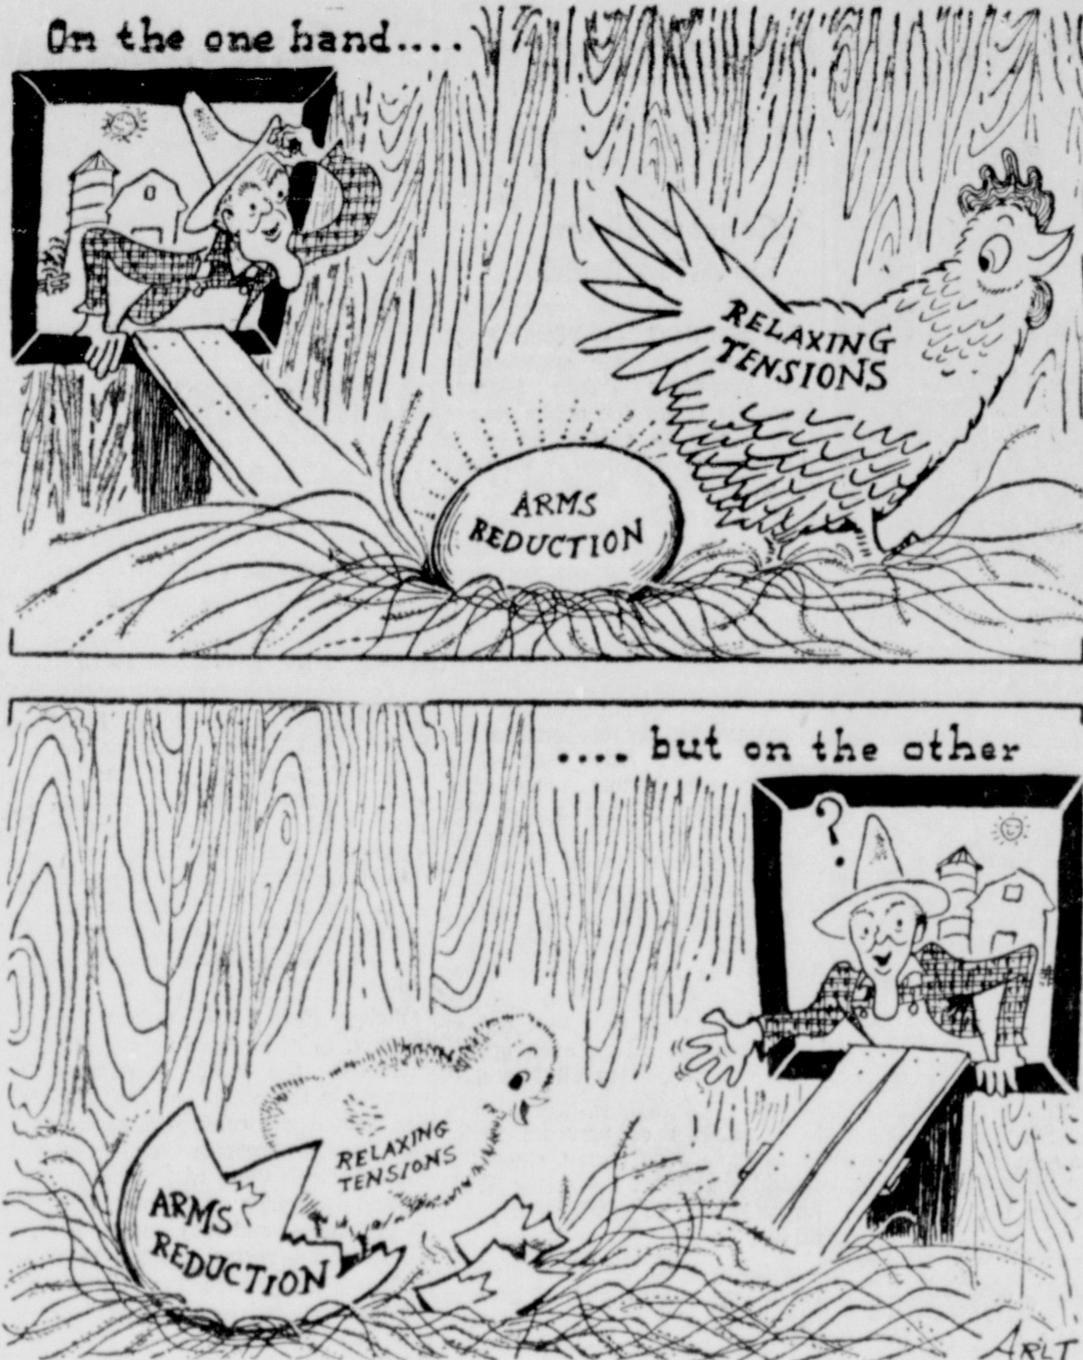

Dean Griswold's book on the Fifth Amendment establishes him as more concerned with the private economics and fears of those who erred than with the security of his country. An example of his attitude appears in this paragraph:

"He (the professor) knows that a number of Communists have been convicted under the Smith Act of 1940, and more have been indicted. Our teacher perhaps magnifies his own predicament. He sees the jail doors opening up if he himself gives the evidence that he was once a Communist. ... His own experience is an ordeal. He does not want his friends to be subjected to it. ... By claiming the privilege against self-incrimination, he can refrain from naming any of his associates. ..."

It would be as incorrect to appoint such a man as Dean Griswold to head a fact-finding commission because of his prejudices as it would be to appoint, let us say, Gerald L. K. Smith on the other side of the fence. What is required of such a commission is objectivity, not prejudgment often based on bias.

Which Comes First?

Achieving Mutual Trust: It's Russia's Move

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said the other day that the kind of peace "that will allow people to be really tranquil and confident in their daily pursuits" will be achieved only when nations have achieved "mutual trust."

It's no state secret. That's the core of the problem at the Big Four Conference to be held next week at Geneva. How, therefore, does any nation, any government, any head of a state set about to "achieve mutual trust"?

The answer is to be found in applying the dilemma to the affairs of individual human beings. For, in their relations, they do not differ materially from those of nations.

If an individual has repeatedly violated his word, if he has broken contract after contract, if he has schemed behind his partner's back to undermine him, if he has entered an association designed for specific objects and then has deliberately plotted against all the other members of that association, what can such a person do to regain the trust and confidence of his neighbors and his fellow men?

Usually an individual who commits a crime confesses it and repents. He tells why he has done wrong and asks the rest of the community to forgive him and restore to him a place in the esteem of his fellow citizens.

Can governments ever admit they were wrong? Can they repent of their sins? Isn't that difficult, it will be asked, for them to do if they have pride? The oft-used expression of diplomacy — "saving face" — is invoked and it is usually suggested that some method of glossing over the wrongdoing be accepted as a substitute. Hence public confession by a government is politically difficult even in a totalitarian country.

An alternative method would be performance — actual deeds that show retribution. This could be accomplished by undoing the wrongs which the Soviet Union has committed since 1945.

Thus the Moscow government pledged itself to permit free elections in Poland and Czechoslovakia and in the other satellite countries. It was a pledge given first in the Atlantic Charter signed by Stalin. Free elections everywhere would solve the East German problem, too, and permit German reunification.

Another step would be to release all the prisoners of war the Soviets have retained in their custody since 1945. There is not the semblance of right behind those acts and it would be a sign of regeneration if the captives were allowed to go to their respective countries.

Then there are the prisoners held by Red China in violation of the Panmunjom armistice agreement. If they were given their freedom, the world would understand that a new era had arisen and that sincere efforts were being made to establish "mutual trust."

Red China, too, should permit free elections uncoerced by military force. There would be no question of admission to the Security Council of the U. N. for a representative of a unified China if the Chinese on Formosa and the Chinese on the mainland could pick their own Parliament and their own rulers, and if the new China government were to achieve and practice complete independence of the Moscow yoke.

Another step would be the unification of Korea. This can be achieved if the Communists would permit the United Nations to hold free elections so that a new government might emerge to govern all of Korea as a country independent of Red Chinese or Soviet coercion.

The key to "mutual trust" is to be found in free elections everywhere so that the people can rule. There would be no fear of war if dictatorships were not in power in countries that have the military might and the resources to menace the peace of the world.

All this will seem difficult to accomplish but only because evil men do not choose to reform or repent. Maybe that's because they no longer believe in God, and worship instead the false gods of their own fallacious authority. Men who have learned to surrender to the will and guidance of a Supreme Being have not been troubled about "saving face" and admitting wrong.

If the Soviet rulers mean to win trust and to be themselves trustful they have only to undo the many things they have done since 1945 which have brought on the "cold war." Then, indeed, will a conference of the heads of states mean something. If there's no "mutual trust" only an uneasy truce can ensue — a postponement of the crisis until the aggressor feels strong enough to start a war. Meantime, spiritual power and moral force mobilized by free peoples can seek to reach the oppressed peoples and encourage them to get rid of their evil rulers — it may be the only way to prevent a catastrophe from happening.

We will be carrying coals to Newcastle and cinders the other way. This was Molotov's speech at San Francisco that touched Congress off like a long-haired rabbit in a prairie fire.

When peace comes Congress wants to be sure it can handle it.

Congressional Investigation Of Anti-TVA Conspiracy Overdue

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A Congressional investigation into the manner in which retired military officers use their Army-Navy careers to get into big business, then use big business to influence government, has been long overdue. Various Senators have talked about such a probe, and one might now be held in connection with Dixon-Yates.

How much did certain high-ranking Army-Navy officers have to do with trying to kill off the Tennessee Valley Authority through Dixon-Yates? How close were they to General Eisenhower? These are questions a Congressional committee might well investigate.

The facts go back to Pearl Harbor days when Frank Denton, president of the Mellon Securities Corporation, came to Washington as a colonel working for the late Gen. B. B. Somervell.

Colonel Denton in turn brought George Woods, president of the First Boston Corporation to the Army, as part of Somervell's entourage. It was General Somervell who pushed Denton for promotion to brigadier general and, after the war, General Denton, head of Mellon Securities, in turn got General Somervell made president of Mellon's Koppers Company.

Admiral Enters Picture
Also after the war, George Woods of the First Boston and Denton of Mellon Securities merged their two companies; so that, after 1946, Dick Mellon and his sister, Mrs. Allan Scaife, controlled the First Boston Corp., which, it's now revealed, put Adolph Wenzell inside the Budget Bureau to concoct the Dixon-Yates project as a means of blocking TVA.

The story, however, does not stop there. After the war, another high-ranking officer, Adm. Ben Moreell, was picked by the Mellons to become head of their Jones and Laughlin Steel Co.

And the other day, Admiral Moreell, as a member of the Herbert Hoover task force on public utilities, wrote a lengthy, highly technical recommendation that TVA be turned over to private companies. Admiral Moreell, a fine naval officer, knows almost nothing about public utilities, and it would be interesting to ascertain who wrote the report for him.

A Senate committee might also inquire why those connected with the Mellons, from Adolph Wenzell of the Mellon-controlled First Boston, to Moreell of the Mellon-controlled Jones-Laughlin, were so interested in blocking TVA.

A great many retired generals have been appointed to high position of late and they should be scrutinized carefully if we are to safeguard our tradition of being a nonmilitary nation.

A General Buys Oil
Last week, Congressman Dewey Short, Missouri Republican, denounced as "terrible" the fact that the Air Force had hired another retired general, W. W. White, vice president of Esso, to negotiate oil and gasoline agreements for the Air Force.

On Feb. 26, 1954, one year and four months before the investigation by the House Armed Services Committee, this column revealed that Brig. Gen. White had been hired by the Air Force for the very dubious job of negotiating a $30,000,000 agreement to sell aviation gas to the Air Force overseas.

This, according to the column of Feb. 26, 54, "constitutes about two-thirds of all aviation gas that will be used by the Air Force overseas during the current fiscal year."

"White is not giving up his holdings in Esso as Secretary of Defense Wilson did in General Motors," this column reported. "As an ex-vice president of Esso, he will walk around to the other side of the table and purchase gasoline for the Air Force."

Opposition To Admiral Byrd
Top government officials want to be polite about it, but they intend to tell Adm. Richard Byrd, the famous polar explorer, that they don't want him to head the upcoming Antarctic explorations. They favor a junior officer, Capt. Finn Ronne, instead.

The Navy, however, is still backing Byrd. He also has strong political support in the Senate where his brother, Virginia's potent Harry Byrd, and his in-law, Massachusetts' long-faced Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, can block funds for the Antarctic expedition.

This presents a vexing problem to the Interdepartmental Committee on the Antarctic, which includes such big names as Secretary of the Interior McKay, Undersecretary of Defense Anderson, Assistant Secretary of State Livingston Merchant, Weather Bureau Chief Francis Reichelderfer and U. S. Information Chief Theodore Streibert. In fact, every government agency wants Ronne, not Byrd, as expedition leader except the Navy.

Admiral Byrd, now 67, wants to limit American explorations to the area he discovered, Little America. He considers Little America his monument, though it has turned out to be largely an ice sheet over water and has already started breaking off and floating out to sea.

Captain Ronne, on the other hand, wants to visit new areas and increase U. S. knowledge of this last great unexplored continent. A Norwegian by birth, Ronne is now a naturalized citizen living in Maryland. He accompanied Admiral Byrd on two early Antarctic expeditions and led his own successful Navy expedition to both the Arctic and Antarctic in 1946-48.

Last year, Sen. Francis Case, South Dakota Republican, introduced a bill authorizing government aid to the nonprofit, scientific American Antarctic Association. If this had passed, Ronne would have headed up a civilian Antarctic expedition. The bill was blocked, however by brother Harry Byrd and Saltonstall, whose daughter Emily married Admiral Byrd's son.

The Navy also quietly let Ronne know that, as a Reserve officer, he would be called to active duty and shipped as far from the Antarctic as possible if the bill passed. Admiral Byrd, though retired, is a flag officer and member of the Annapolis clique. He is also still the Navy's adviser on polar matters. That's why the backstage battle is so intense.

SAC's Achilles Heel

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

This is a wish to intimidate our transatlantic allies, who control SAC's most important overseas airbases. Moreover, this tactic of intimidation is plainly working only too well. Whatever the treaties may say, the British, the Spaniards, the French and the others will go to almost any lengths to avoid inviting a visit from "Bisons" and "Badgers" carrying H-bombs in their bellies.

As a practical matter, therefore, the transatlantic airbases are now virtually certain to be denied to SAC, unless the countries where those bases are situated are already directly threatened with direct attack by the Soviets. In any showdown that starts in Asia, for instance, SAC cannot reasonably hope to use bases beyond the line Azores - Iceland - Greenland - Alaska-Okinawa-Philippines.

In these circumstances, all SAC's B-47s will have to be double-refueled to reach the more important Soviet targets. This means that each B-47 will have to be air-refueled on the way out and air-refueled once again on the way home.

The tanker fleet that SAC has for this purpose is largely composed of about 600 KC-97s, a slow, rotary-engine aircraft with poor altitude characteristics. The process of refueling is inordinately inefficient, since the speedy, high-flying B-47 must sacrifice half its cruising altitude and slow down almost to stalling speed in order to get gas from a KC-97 tanker. And if the tankers maintain the rate of one air-refueling mission per day, they will be doing unusually well.

Consider, then, the situation when all B-47s flying to Soviet targets have to be double-refueled. With approximately 600 KC-97s capable of flying one refueling mission daily, and with each B-47 needing two refueling missions to complete its round trip, the size of the tanker fleet will place an appallingly low ceiling on B-47 offensive sorties. In any one day, it will only be possible to use about 300 of SAC's great force of 1,500 B-47s.

In other words, General Curtis Lemay either has five times as many B-47s as he needs to do his job, or he has one-fifth of the number of tankers he will need to do his job without the overseas airbases which he should no longer count on using. This is one of the central political-strategic facts in the modern world. And it is another proof that the trend of the air balance between this country and Russia all but amounts to a national scandal.

Recurrent Parotitis Often Mistaken For Mumps

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Several weeks ago a reader wrote us about her neighbor who said she had suffered from mumps three times, "first on one side, then on the other, and then on both sides." The writer was skeptical and so was I. No mention was made of the interval that elapsed between attacks.

To avoid argument, I answered the question on the premise that the diagnosis was correct. Now and then a single attack stretches along, involving the parotid on one side, then the other, and finally the two submaxillaries, until all four salivary glands have been visited by the virus. This constitutes one attack rather than four.

A better and more acceptable answer would have been: "Mumps is only one of four causes for swelling of the parotid glands." Infection with the staph or strep organisms is a second origin and stone formation is a third.

These rocks, smaller than kidney and gallstones, develop around a nucleus of dead cells or clumps of bacteria and block the entrance of a salivary gland which makes the jaw swell. The stones can be felt with the finger or visualized under X-ray.

But the most logical diagnosis is the fourth condition, recurrent parotitis. The parotid glands are situated just in front of the ears and we tend to associate inflammation of these structures with mumps because of the typical moon face that results. Dr. John A. Bigler, Chicago pediatrician, states that recurrent parotitis is fairly common and frequently is mistaken for second and third attacks of mumps.

The disorder is not serious and, from outward appearances, is indistinguishable from mumps. Parotitis occurs more often in children than in adults. Swelling on one or both sides of the face is the first noticeable symptom. It develops suddenly, is painless, and a slight fever may exist.

The opening through which saliva flows into the mouth is slightly reddened and, when pressure is applied to the gland, a small drop of pus is expressed. This never happens in mumps and is the chief means by which one condition is differentiated from the other. Puffiness may last a few days to eight or more weeks, with an average of two to three weeks.

The number of recurrences varies from one to 10. They take place after a week or month and two or three attacks a year have been

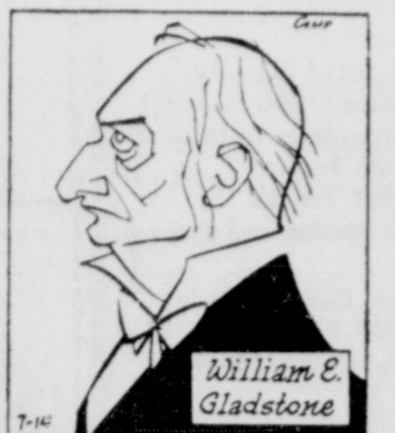

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

William Ewart Gladstone — doughty Prime Minister of Britain in the latter half of the nineteenth century and bete noir of Disraeli — never would have entered the political arena at all if his father had not exerted relentless pressure, according to his latest biographer Sir Philip Magnus. What Gladstone really wanted to be was a clergyman.

Furthermore, claims Sir Philip, Gladstone not only had nothing to do with the Gladstone bag, but probably never heard of it. He did, however, invent the postal card.

There are a lot of first-class worries in this country, but a special prize is certainly coming to the employe at Twentieth Century Fox who addressed a note to Boss Darryl Zanuck reading:

"Isn't it time we started thinking of what to call our organization in the next century?"

Public Library Opens Sunday In Frostburg

Concert Slated By Arion Band

FROSTBURG — When Frostburg's newest civic organization, the Frostburg Public Library, opens its doors for public inspection, it will be saluted by one of the oldest civic groups in the county, Frostburg's Arion Band, organized in 1877.

On Sunday afternoon, the library at 97 East Main Street, will open for public inspection at 2 o'clock. Preceding the opening, the band will salute the library with a concert played in front of the building, beginning at 1:15 p. m.

Announcing the cooperation and support of the Arion Band, Mrs. Grace Finzel Bittner, president of the library, expressed the hope that the library would enjoy the same unbroken record of service to the community as has the band.

The staff of the library, all of whom have been working vigorously to get the books and shelves in order for the scheduled opening, emphasized the fact that the invitation to attend the opening Sunday is extended to all interested persons.

No written or personal invitations have been issued, since that would contradict the policy of the organization, to establish a public library.

Favors will be distributed to each person who attends between the hours of 2 p. m. and 4 p. m.

Wellersburg Beats Eckhart, 11-8; Grantsville Loses Forfeit

Winners Get Eight In 3rd, Tie For 2nd

Barrelville Scores Forfeit To Snap Sluggers Win Skein

Wellersburg pushed over eight runs in a hectic third inning and went on to defeat Eckhart, 11-8, in a Pen Mar Baseball League battle yesterday at Eckhart.

The victory pushed Wellersburg into a tie for second place in the eight-team circuit with Grantsville's Sluggers when the latter forfeited yesterday at Barrelville.

The forfeit loss by the Sluggers snapped a 10-game winning skein Grantsville had built up to climb within a half-game of league-leading Zihlman.

Both yesterday's matches were replays of previously postponed contests. Grantsville forfeited when they were able to field only eight men at Barrelville.

Lefty Jerry Loibel was the recipient of the big working margin when Wellersburg erupted for eight tallies in the third inning on three hits and five bases on balls.

Pete Deremer's bases-loaded double and a triple by O'Baker with two mates aboard highlighted the big explosion.

Eckhart kayoed Loibel in the seventh but Bobby Dawson relieved to hold the home team in the final two innings to preserve Wellersburg's victory.

Hansel and Mulet paced the Eckhart attack with three hits apiece including a three-bagger for Hansel. Deremer and O'Baker each had a pair of bingles for Wellersburg. The score:

The last place Tigers erupted with a long range hitting attack that included a pair of bases-loaded homers to upset the league leading Senators, 14-8, in the Dan Division of the Cumberland Little League yesterday at Penn Avenue.

Gary Zembower and Steve Spooler smacked the four-run circuit swats for the Tigers, and Billy De Arcangelis contributed four singles to back up Larry Peters' six-hit pitching for the victory. Colbert had a homer and single for the losers.

At Stitches field in an afternoon contest, Bob Ziler's Athletics pushed over seven runs in the final three innings to edge the second-place Dodgers, 10-7, in the Dan loop.

Ken Davis paced the 12-hit Athletics attack with a triple and two singles while Bob Gaffney, slugging leftfielder of the Dodgers, belted a pair of homers, one with the sacks crammed. The scores:

Eagles, Elks Clash Today At Allegany

Birds Put Nine-Game Win Streak On Line

Victorious in nine consecutive games, the Fraternal Order of Eagles will engage the first place B.P.O. Elks in an important Rocking Chair Softball League game today at 6:15 o'clock at Campobello.

A victory for the Eagles would put the Birds a half game out of first place while the Elks have held since the start of the campaign on May 3. The Elks have played one more game than the F.O.E. team.

The Eagles are the fourth of the series between the leaders and runners-up and the Elks hold a 2-1 edge. Bill Underdonk beat Jim Gaffney in the first two games, 8-6 and 14-3, and Al Sheetz, who has notched nine wins in a row, beat Underdonk in the third contest, 2-1. Underdonk owns an 11-3 record while Sheetz has won nine and lost one for the highest pitching percentage in the circuit.

The Eagles are undefeated since May 26 when they dropped an 8-7 decision to the Moose. That was Sheetz's first game of the season and that's the only game he has lost. Since then, he has won by the following scores: Outdoor Club 5-4, K. of C. 14-0, Moose 4-3, Outdoor Club 12-5, K. of C. 8-0, Elks 2-1, Moose 6-4, Outdoor Club 6-5 and K. of C. 5-3.

Underdonk has beaten the Outdoor Club, K. of C. and Moose, three times each, and holds two decisions over the Eagles. He lost three close ones, 5-4 to Outdoor in 12 innings, 2-1 to the Eagles and 11-9 to the Moose.

The Moose plays Outdoor Club at Stitches Field in today's other RCL contest.

Andrews moved smoothly through an afternoon fourth-round victory over Bill O'Brien of Seattle, 4 and 3. The champ won four of the first six holes with two birdies and two pars. He was one under par against Bradley and two over against O'Brien.

Harmon's Hit Wins

CINCINNATI, July 13 (AP)—Chuck Harmon tripled home the winning runs in the eighth inning tonight as the Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Detroit Tigers, 5-4, in the annual exhibition game played for the benefit of Cincinnati amateur baseball.

Both teams had their lineups well filled with rookies and neither of the Tigers' two big aces—Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline—saw action.

Johnson's Grocery continued to set a torrid pace in the City Rec Softball League by notching its 17th triumph in 19 games, defeating Kelly Retail, 8-2, at East Side field.

Meanwhile Tom McLuckie chalked up his third straight pitching win as Schute's edged the Old Germans, 3-2, at Stitches field, and Hygienic Sanitation tripped McGee's Restaurant, 6-3, at Campobello, in other loop contests.

Ronnie Cage smashed a home-run in the third with two mates aboard to start Johnson's off on the winning road while Bill Eckard had a pair of singles, Crabtree had three hits for the losers.

Jack Martin and Jim Brown singled with one out in the seventh inning and pulled a double steal to set the stage for Schute's to score the winning tally against the Old Germans in the last of the seventh inning. Joe Biggs' smash to short was bobbled and Martin crossed the plate with the game-ending run.

Brown topped the winners with three hits while Mike Birmingham and Jake Michaels each had a pair of bingles for the Old Germans.

Two Hygienic hurlers scattered nine McGee's to chalk up the victory at Campobello with Niland gaining the nod for the triumph. Brindle Long smacked a double to short Hygienic's assault. Hixenbaugh collected four of the loser's base knocks. The scores:

Catherman Sets Lakeview Golf Course Mark At 73

CCC Team Defeats Morgantown Golfers

Charles S. "Bill" Catherman Jr. set a course record by shooting a one-over par 73 on the new Lakeview Country Club course yesterday while leading the Cumberland Country Club men's golf team to a 17-12½ victory over the Morgantown, W. Va., club's team.

Meeting for the first time after two previous attempts to play a match in Cumberland were postponed because of bad weather, the teams played 10 foursomes as the locals scored their fifth win of the season. Cumberland has lost two team matches.

Catherman teamed up with Clifton Van Roly to defeat Bill Bower, holder of the previous course mark at Lakeview of 74, and Jack Roberts, 3 and 6.

Bill toured the back nine in even par 36 figures and came home with a one-over 37 to record the new course mark over the rugged 6,269-yard course which is surrounded by woods and many traps and roughs. Extremely narrow fairways make the par-72 Lakeview course very tough for golfers and even the Morgantown pro, Dave Delvichio, has not toured the course in par figures since it was built about a year ago.

Catherman shot four birdies and five bogies in touring the 18 holes, breaking even with par on the other nine holes. The scores:

PAR OUT 444 534 435-36
CATH'MAN OUT 454 433 436-36

PAR IN 444 534 435-36-72
CATH'MAN IN 545 424 445-37-73

BALTIMORE, July 13 (AP)—Baltimore Orioles General Manager Paul Richards announced today the club has bought the contract of Hector Brown, right-handed pitcher who has been in and out of the major leagues since 1951, for an undisclosed sum of money.

He broke into the majors in 1951 with the Chicago White Sox, was farmed to Seattle, then was back in Chicago for the 1952 season. Traded to Boston, he had an 11-6 record with the Red Sox in 1953, a 1-8 score last year, and was sent to Oakland this year.

Fain To Sign Cleveland Pact

Indians Pick Up First Baseman

CLEVELAND, July 13 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians announced today that Ferris Fain, veteran first baseman, would be signed as a free agent.

Fain's signature is not yet on a contract, an Indian spokesman said, because the Tribe has not designated who will leave the squad to make room for him.

However, Fain, 33, is now in Cleveland and may be wearing an Indians' uniform by tomorrow night when the Tribe goes against the league-leading New York Yankees.

With a lifetime batting average of .291, Fain led American League batting in 1951 and 1952.

Fain was batting .264 when the Detroit Tigers released him this season. A leg operation laid him up last July.

Florence Chadwick Postpones Swim

DOVER, England, July 13 (AP)—Florence Chadwick tonight postponed until midnight (EST) her attempt to become the first person ever to swim the English Channel both ways without a stop.

The 33-year-old San Diego, Calif., secretary, had planned on entering the channel today but a heavy fog settled over the 21-mile stretch of water, forcing a cancellation.

Miss Chadwick already holds the women's record for channel swims in both directions. In 1950 she swam from France to England to France in 14 hours 42 minutes.

Junior Player Extends Champ Tony Trabert

ATLANTA, July 13 (AP)—Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert joined other favorites in the quarter finals of the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournament today after a tough match with Mike Green of Miami, Fla.

The 18-year-old Green, second ranked junior player in the nation, gave Trabert a surprisingly stiff battle before the big Cincinnati won 6-0, 6-8, 6-3.

Ham Richardson, of Baton Rouge, La., second seeded here behind Trabert, Sammy Giammalva of Houston, Tex., sixth seeded, and South Africa's Johann Kuperfberger, also were carried three sets.

Gaining the quarter finals with straight set victories were Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., fifth seeded; defending champion Bernard Barten of San Angelo, Tex., fourth seeded; Eddie Moylan, Trenton, N. J., third seeded, and Jerry Moss of Modesto, Calif., eighth seeded.

Richardson had a strong forcing game in the first and third sets to defeat Tim Coss of Washington, D. C., 6-2, 5-7, 6-1. Giammalva outlasted Atlanta's Frank Willard, 7-5, 2-6, 7-5. Frost ousted Brooklyn's Ronald Homberg 6-3, 6-0.

Dorothy Head Knodel of Alameda, Calif., Pat Shaffer of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Janet Hopps of Seattle, advanced to the quarter finals in competition for the women's crown.

Ted Kluszewski Setting Pace In Home Run Derby

Redlegs Infielder Matches Ruth Mark

By CHARLES FRANKEL

CINCINNATI, July 13 (AP)—Ted Kluszewski, who scares pitchers, strays his hits and rallies his Cincinnati teammates, is right on the pace Babe Ruth was setting at this time in 1927 when he established the homerun record of 60.

With 60 games in the record book, the big first baseman is leading the majors with 29 round trippers. The Babe hit No. 29 in his 79th game. Later he put on that famous and fantastic spurt of 17 in September.

Klu is bettering his own pace of 1954 when he led the majors with 49. He didn't slug No. 29 last year until the 104th game.

Kluszewski home runs were deciding markers in five games.

Here are some Kluszewski statistics for the season to date: Twelve of the 29 homers were registered in losing efforts and 17 in Redleg triumphs. He's hit a pair of homers in two games, and the twin roundtrippers were needed for both decisions.

Righthanders have given up 17 of the home run balls and left-handers 12. He's hit two off both Warren Spahn and Bob Buhl of Milwaukee. The duo off Buhl came in successive days.

Sixteen of the blasts were witnessed by Crosley Field fans here. He hasn't hit one in Pittsburgh, Milwaukee and Philadelphia parks have yielded three apiece, Brooklyn one and the rest two.

Milwaukee pitchers have been the most generous, delivering eight home run balls. Philadelphia has given up five, Brooklyn and St. Louis four, Chicago and Pittsburgh three and New York two.

Tribe Hosts New York In Crucial Test

Brooklyn To Entertain St. Louis With Campy Once Again In Action

By WILL GRIMSLEY

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Yankees move into the West tonight, anxious to clamp an unbreakable hold on the American League pennant, while Mickey Mantle's bat is still hot.

The proud former world champions, their five-year streak broken by Cleveland last year, have two games with their chief rivals, the Indians, play three at Detroit and then go against the Chicago White Sox for three more.

Lemon, Score To Hurl
If young Mantle is able to continue his present hitting pace, the Yankees may come home with their present five-game advantage substantially increased.

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez plans to shoot the works, starting the veteran Bob Lemon, his winningest pitcher (12-6), against the Yankees' Tommy Byrne (7-2) in the game tonight. The Indians then will throw the young speedballer, Herb Score, at the league leaders Friday night.

The way Mantle has been tagging the ball of late, the Yankees may not be overly concerned over whom Lopez puts on the firing line.

The switch-hitting blaster from Commerce, Oklahoma, who bats cleanup for the Yanks, boosted his batting average 15 points to .318 the week preceding Tuesday's All-Star game, hitting three home runs in the Sunday doubleheader at Washington.

Also, it wasn't Mantle's fault that the National League won a dramatic comeback 6-5 victory over the American League in the so-called "dream game" at Milwaukee.

Mantle Socks Homer
Mantle produced a first inning home run—a wallop travelling 425 feet—which provided three runs and got the junior circuit off to a winning start. He also got a single off National League pitching before the St. Louis Cardinals' Stan Musial parked a ball in the center field stands to win the game in the 12th inning.

Here's the major league baseball schedule as the teams resume action after their mid-summer-star lull:

American League
New York at Cleveland
Washington at Chicago (2)
Baltimore at Kansas City (2)
Boston at Detroit (2)

National League
St. Louis at Brooklyn
Chicago at New York
Milwaukee at Philadelphia
Cincinnati at Pittsburgh

The Brooklyn Dodgers, fighting to hold an 11½ game bulge in the National League despite a pronounced slump, entertain a St. Louis team still gloating over Musial's All-Star homer.

Campanella To Return
The Dodgers, who have lost 10 of their last 19 games after getting off to a record start, hope to halt their downward glide with the return of their valuable catcher, Roy Campanella.

Campy, sidelined since June 29 with an injured knee, announced during the All-Star excitement that he was fit again and would be back of the plate when Brooklyn resumes action tonight.

The catcher has been equipped with a special foam rubber inset for his hind leg to protect the spur on his left knee, aggravated in a game at St. Louis, June 19.

Another team to be watched with particular interest when the boys start playing for keeps again is the National League's defending champion, New York Giants.

The Giants, sluggish and without fire in the early stages of the pennant race, have shown a reawakening of interest from Manager Leo Durocher on down.

MONEY FOR MARES
WILMINGTON, Del. (NEA)—The world's richest race for fillies and mares, the $150,000 Delaware Handicap, will be run at Delaware Park, July 2.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, July 13 (INS)—This is the part formerly touted as sold is Columbia on glamorous for Gloria Vanderbilt—no longer in a Novak that Harry Cohn has the running in this picture, but the star of her contract and given her brand new deal calling for a whopping increase in salary. And, by way of a bonus she also gets the Marjorie Oelrichs role opposite Tyrone Power in "The Eddy Duchin Story."

The word is that Kim is terrific in "Picnic," proving herself a fine actress as well as a beauty.

The nudist scene ever attempted in a movie (make Hedy Lamarr's famed old "Ecstasy" bit look overdressed) will be for the European version of "Thunderstorm." And guess who's going to do the peeling? No one other than Linda Christian who'll make a dash into the ocean minus even a stitch with leading man Carlos Thompson pursuing her!

For the American version of "Thunderstorm," Linda will be clad in a slip.

Red-haired Cara Williams, who gave up her career when she married John Barrymore, Jr., steps back in front of a camera again for the first time in two years when she reports at MGM for "Viva Las Vegas." Formerly this was "Weekend at Las Vegas" and Cara has a featured role with Dan Daily and Cyd Charisse.

For a love scene with James Mason in "Forever Darling," Marilyn Maxwell wears a shirt and tuxedo pants. The pants, very, very tight, were worrying Marilyn.

When she arrived on the set she asked Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, the star-producers of the comedy, if they didn't think the pants were too snug.

"Not a bit," said Lucille, "what do you think we're paying you all this money for?"

"You're got the wrong Marilyn!" giggled Miss Maxwell.

Terry Moore has decided New York has done her all the good it's gonna do. She and mother will be home around August 1—after a few stops here and there driving across the country.

Baltimore Man Forfeits Bond

A 29-year-old Baltimorean, John Henry Wilt, forfeited $52.90 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on two state motor charges including "wilful failure to obey a summons."

Wilt was arrested last April 4 on Greene Street by Officer George

A. Pfeiffer for reckless driving. Bond of $26.45 was posted on each count.

Bud Carper Sensabaugh, 116 Blaul Avenue, an employee of the George F. Hazelwood Construction Company, was fined $86.75 Tuesday after he pleaded guilty to having an overload of 4,300 pounds on a second axle.

Richard F. Boyle, checker for the State Roads Commission, nabbed him last month on Route 220, a half mile south of here.

3 Men Escape Death In Area RR Accident

Car Demolished At Garretts Crossing

Three Pennsylvania residents leaped to safety yesterday afternoon after the car in which they were riding stalled on Garretts Crossing just west of Deer Park and was demolished by two B&O diesel units.

Maryland State Police identified the trio as James R. Beeler, owner and operator of the car, of Monessen, and two passengers Henry Lewis, also of Monessen and James D. Beeler, of Donora.

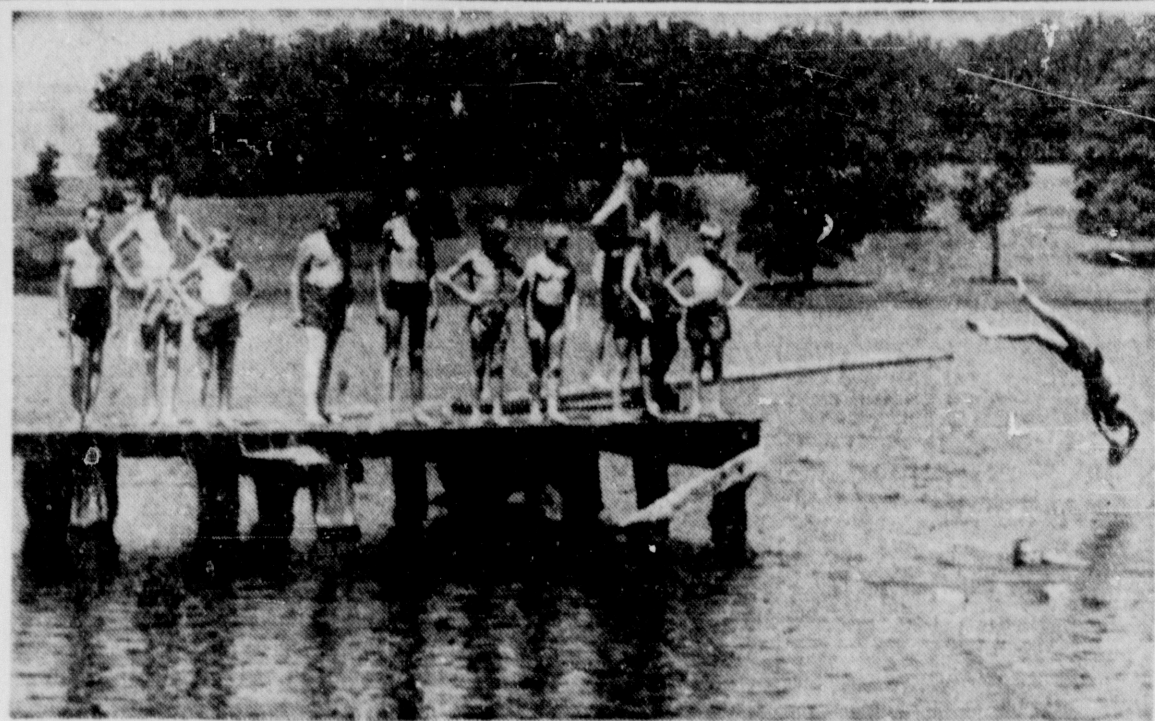

The driver of the car told Tfc. Glen D. Folk, of the Maryland State Police, that as the vehicle was going over the crossing the right front wheel dropped off the edge and the engine stalled.

The three men leaped from the car and attempted to flag down the approaching locomotives which were traveling west toward Grafton, W. Va.

A spokesman for the B&O said that the main line traffic was not tied up following the mishap. The car was hurled off the right-of-way, he added.

The Garretts Crossing road is a dirt road and goes from Route 38 to Loch Lynn. This road is reported to be narrow and not traveled often.

The crossing is located on a straightaway, according to police who said the accident occurred at 5:30 p. m.

Activities Vary At Camp Algawa

These four pictures give an insight into some of the many activities which are keeping 79 4-H Club boys from Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties on the go 15 hours each day this week at the Tri-County 4-H camp at Pleasant Valley. At the upper left some of the youngsters are shown in an intensely contested game of volleyball. The upper right picture is a general view of the waterfront as one of the 4-H boys starts to dive into the cool lake

Demurrer Over Six Mile House Is Sustained

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday issued a verbal opinion from the bench in Allegany County Circuit Court sustaining a demurrer concerning a dispute over the proposed removal from the Six Mile House landmark west of Cumberland.

Frank B. Vandegrift and Mary H. Vandegrift, his wife, now living in Kansas City, Kansas, through Attorney George R. Hughes Jr., had filed an equity suit seeking a court order to insert a verbal agreement in the lease for the premises.

The action was filed against Katherine M. Beveridge, owner of the premises.

Vandegrift asserted in his bill of complaint that the written lease did not contain a clause agreed upon verbally at a conference here earlier whereby the lessees were granted the right to remove, alter or repair the Six Mile House located at the point where Braddock and Winchester roads meet U. S. Route 40.

When he saw the omission, Vandegrift signed a supplement to the written lease and sent it to Mrs. Beveridge, who refused to concur. During the interval the Vandegrifts committed themselves for payment for equipment and materials with which to construct a gasoline filling station. This station is located just west of the Six Mile House and the old structure blocks the view of the premises for west-bound motorists, the Vandegrifts contend.

Edward J. Ryan, attorney for Mrs. Beveridge, filed a demurrer contending that by terms of the bill of complaint the Vandegrifts admit accepting and executing the lease after having knowledge of its omissions. Having accepted the lease, the complainants cannot now attempt to vary the terms of the written agreement, Judge Harris sustained this latter argument.

Miss Wilson transferred to Frostburg State Teachers College for elementary education training, graduating in 1954.

She was named princess at May Courts held at the Frostburg college in 1953 and 1954.

Congress Votes $1,400,000 For Flood Project

Appropriations Bill To Go To White House

Congress yesterday cleared and sent to the White House a bill for flood control and navigation projects which includes a $1,400,000 appropriation for the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project.

The allotment for the local project was included in a bill providing nearly 554 million dollars to be used by the Corps of Engineers for flood control and navigation work.

The $1,400,000 allotment, as recommended by the Army Engineers and the Budget Bureau, was unchanged in the compromise bill which was reached by House and Senate conferees.

Final action was taken on the bill by the House of Representatives yesterday.

The funds are earmarked for the fiscal year which began July 1.

The appropriation will come as the project, estimated to cost $17,000,000, is between 35 and 40 per cent complete.

The big project is slated to be completed by 1958 if Congress continues to appropriate funds on a regular schedule.

The current contract awarded to the E. J. Albrecht Company, includes channel improvement, levees and a flood wall on the Potomac River.

Westernport Orders Halt Of School Work

The Mayor and Council of Westernport, discussing the water drainage situation which has resulted from construction work on the new Bruce high school, decided yesterday evening to notify the George F. Hazelwood Company to halt work on the sewage and drainage.

Town officials claim that as a result of the grading of the grounds, the natural water course has been diverted. The contractor, according to the officials, has destroyed a catch basin and is putting in a temporary sewer where a permanent sewer should be constructed. This, they said, was done without the permission of the town.

Letters are being sent to members of the Board of Education and to the contractor. A meeting with the Board is being sought in the near future.

Plans Square Dance

Virginia Avenue Playground will hold a square dance on the playground today at 7:30 p. m.

Brush Brothers Complete Plans For Ball Game

Final plans were completed yesterday for a Brothers of the Brush tour to Pittsburgh Sunday for a double-header baseball game between the Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals.

The buses will leave Cas Taylor's on North Mechanic Street and Ford's Drug Store on Baltimore Avenue at 7:30 a. m. Sunday. Brothers may take only the bus for which they sign up.

The committee in charge said the individual cost of the trip will include round-trip transportation on an air-conditioned chartered bus, admission to the game, refreshments on the bus and part of the cost of the evening meal.

Several seats are still available on the buses. Brothers who are interested should contact Cas Taylor, telephone 6629, or Robert Martin, telephone 528.

Local Elks Plan Activities For Exchange Pupils

Thirty-five local high school and college students have been selected to act as hosts tonight at a dance to be held in the Rainbow Room of the Elks Home, South Centre Street, for 35 foreign exchange students from 14 different countries.

The group arrived by bus yesterday at Frostburg State Teachers College and spent the evening at the college. Today, following breakfast there, the contingent will tour the Amelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America; have lunch at the plant cafeteria; tour the former site of Fort Cumberland, and receive an official greeting by Mayor Roy W. Eves at City Hall.

Following a tour of the city, the group will inspect the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant; visit the Cumberland Country Club and eat dinner there; and following supper will proceed to the Elks Home for the dance at 8:30 p. m.

Sixteen girls from local high schools will be partners for the 16 visiting male pupils. 4-H Campers Keep Busy At Pleasant Valley Site

By ALBERT D. DARBY News Staff Writer

There's been plenty of activity all week at the Pleasant Valley Recreation area, located in the mountains of Garrett County some 12 miles south of Grantsville.

Since arriving Sunday, 79 4-H Club members from the three westernmost counties of Maryland have been on the go some 15 hours a day at Camp Algawa, which is a combination of the first two letters from the name of each county, Allegany, Garrett and Washington.

The boys arise at 7 a. m. daily and they are in bed with lights out in their cabins by 10 p. m. The camp ends Saturday morning.

Allegany County seems the dominant one at the camp as 56 of the 79 campers are from this county. There are 14 from Washington County and the other nine are Garrett County boys.

Although the youngsters are arranged so that all in each 10-bed cabin are from the same county, they are divided into four tribes for daytime activities so that boys from all three counties are members of each tribe.

James A. McHenry, assistant county agent in Garrett County, who serves as camp director, has arranged a point system whereby each tribe is credited for success in all of the many camping activities. Points are awarded for softball, volleyball, horseshoes, tether ball, badminton, box hockey, swimming events, campfire program and for neatness in cabin care.

There also are demerits for dropped paper, paper in the tribe, absence at activities and poor work on job assignments. The best-kept cabin gets a banner which remains across its door until another cabin exceeds it.

Morning activities at the state-owned camp are arranged on a tribal basis so that each one of the 20-boy units is engaging in a different activity. For instance, while the Senecas were making hamburger baskets in handicraft class the Cayugas took a wildlife hike where they saw a beaver dam as one of the highlights.

At the same time the Cherokee tribe was active on the rifle range and the Mohawks tribe spent the time swimming. In each case the activity was directed by adult supervisors. Handicrafts are being led by George Wood, assistant county agent of Washington County and Daniel Lindsey, who is serving as acting assistant agent in Allegany County.

The wildlife activities are in charge of Thomas Thayer, assistant district forester, and E. P. Ogden, wildlife technician for the Game and Inland Fish Commission. Fred Gero is the swimming instructor.
